

April 1, 2019

STL Communications, Inc has acquired STL On-Site

Effective April 1, 2019, STL Communications, headquartered in Chesterfield, MO, has acquired the assets of STL On-Site.

Steve Leidholdt, President/CEO of STL Communications, and Paul Arthur, President of STL On-Site, have worked together for the past several months on the logistics of this acquisition to ensure that it is a win/win for both organizations and, most importantly, for their customers.

“After extensive research and discussion between Paul and I, we both knew that this was a great move for all parties. Paul and his outstanding team bring additional expertise and experience to STLCOM and will help us continue to grow and expand the technology products and services we offer to our customers,” said Steve Leidholdt.

Paul Arthur also explained “One of the reasons I’m really excited is that STL Communications has a plethora of technology offerings that STL On-Site did not; I am sure our customers will find value in them. Our valued, long term STL On-Site customers will see very few changes in this transaction other than positive changes. Most importantly, they will still be able to deal with the same technical staff that they have grown to know and trust who are now part of the STL Communications team.”

For further information or with any questions please contact Paul Arthur at his new STL Communications phone number 314-205-7177 or email at paula@stlcom.com or Steve Leidholdt at 314-205-7101 or email at stavel@stlcom.com.

About STL Communications, Inc.

Founded in 1989, STL Communications, Inc. is an industry leader focused on guiding customers through the constantly changing landscape of technology solutions. Providing an unmatched combination of experience and authorizations by leading manufacturers in voice, networking, data storage, nurse call, virtualization and more; STL is committed to providing the best technology solutions and service available across all industries. “At STL Communications, we make technology easy.”