Technology made easy.

STL Communications, Inc has continued its tradition of funding the STL Communications Technology Scholarship at Southwestern Illinois College. This scholarship has been helping SWIC students achieve their dreams and goals for years.

"I am so happy that we have been privileged to partner with SWIC for the past 7 years to provide this scholarship focused on students in their technology program. It's been great for STL, great for SWIC and most importantly provided assistance to some very deserving students. We look forward to continuing this partnership for many more years," said Steve Leidholdt, President and CEO of STL Communications, Inc.

From SWIC:

"Computer and Information Sciences is one of Southwestern Illinois College's most popular degree programs, but the majority of our students need financial support to make their educational dreams a reality. Each year, a deserving student pursuing a degree related to Computer and Information Sciences is awarded a scholarship because of the support we receive from STL Communications, Inc.

A past recipient of the STL Communications Technology Scholarship stated:

"Without this scholarship, I would have had an additional burden placed upon me as I navigate college while working to pay my own way. I am one step closer to becoming a Network Admin because of your support. I appreciate the scholarship more than you will ever know!" – Patrick.

Their success would not be possible without your contribution and we are all grateful for STL Communications' continued support."
